Things your child is learning & doing at nursery

Baby Room: Our blossoming babies are learning about textures through exploring materials, foods and messy play. The babies are enjoying playing in the sand tray and water tray and exploring the sea life animals. Our babies are taking part in music and puppet sessions to support their communication and language and independence through choosing their favourite animals.

Toddler Room: Toddler room are learning about the world and environment, taking part in lots of role play activities where they can learn the different jobs adults do such as doctors, hospitals, libraries etc. Toddlers are taking part in lots of baking activities, preparing morning snack and independence through serving and feeding themselves at meal times. Toddlers are also taking part in Physical literacy activities that include expressive dance and movement using fabrics to support their pincer and writing skills, directing them to make circles in the air, zig zag lines, spirals and then transferring this on to paper using pencils.

Pre-School Room: Pre-School children are learning writing skills, being able to recognise their name and writing their name or the first letter. Pre-School children are also learning about the world and different jobs that adults do, they are learning about Pirates at the moment (some of the child's interests) they have taken part in making pirate ships, doing pirate maths worksheets and counting treasure. Pre-School are also taking part in Physical literacy activities that include expressive dance and movement using fabrics to support their pincer and writing skills, directing them to make circles in the air, zig zag lines, spirals and then transferring this on to paper using pencils.
