OCTOBER FUN AND ACTIVITIES:

Our children at Bloomers Day Nursery have been enjoying learning about Autumn, carving their own class room pumpkins and designing them using paint and glitter. The children have been enjoying learning to count using natural autumnal objects such as leaves, sticks and conkers, they have enjoyed exploring mud trays with natural autumnal objects inside also and exploring the outside in Autumn. The toddlers have focused on their fine motor skills by being able to independently use the scissors to cut out leaves for their autumn activities

Our babies have enjoyed welcoming some new friends to their room, enjoying playing alongside each other and joining in with circle time singing sessions focusing on their PSED. Development. Our older children in Toddler and preschool have enjoyed activities around Black History Month, such as creating their own African colouring in pictures and talking about special people such as their families. Our toddlers have enjoyed their daily story sessions, it's encouraged them to understand the importance of reading and looking after their books.

Pre School children have enjoyed messy play activities which as encouraged them to leave distinguish marks in the tray, such as letters, faces or shapes.

What preschool have been doing during the start of November

Preschool children have enjoyed taking part in a nature activity where they made bird seed feeders using recycled toilet holders, peanut butter for the glue and bird seeds that Stephanie brought into the nursery. In the preschool garden we have pigeons that are based on top of the canopies and they enjoy watching the birds pop their heads in and out and so we decided to make bird seed feeders. Once the bird seed feeders were dry we hung them outside on the fence and have been watching to see if any birds have come to feed. (At the moment we have caught any, but the seed feeders look more empty then what they were when we put them out. Below are some pictures of them.

Pre school children have also enjoyed creating their own christmas wish lists and posting them to Santa, we made a special northpole post box and we have posted them to the north pole and we cant wait to receive a letter back from Santa.

(Below are pictures of some lists and the post box and class letter to Santa)
